Fall '08 Lucite Newsletter

The Award Group Lucite Newsletter is a quarterly publication that features the most creative and innovative deal gifts from investment banks all over the world. This newsletter allows clients to proudly display their creations and can also be used as a source of inspiration when creating new Lucites.

This hefty bronze and lucite deal gift was hand-painted to add color and detail to create an amazing gift.

Moss is the world's premier provider of booth designs for high-end trade shows. We created this piece as a clear lucite replica of one of their exhibits.

We have some very impressive telecom lucites to share with you. Chad is always a real standout!

When Nike sold Bauer we created this replica hockey skate out of lucite.

Let us know if you are looking for something unique. We are not afraid to take a risk on a new shape or style that has not been done before.

Stay on track! The Award Group will always provide you with a smooth ride and keep your projects heading in the right direction.

The Camp Pendleton piece utilizes a sculpture of a monument memorializing the Battle of Iwo Jima. This monument was based on a Pulitzer Prize winning photograph and the original sculpture was cast here in New York.

Want to remember this wonderful time in your life forever? A complimentary business card embedment will help. Give us a call if you would like this free gift.

Let us do the heavy lifting. Really, we don't mind!

Here are some creative examples of lucite in custom shapes that you can instantly recognize.

This sphere rests on a custom molded base, featuring an LED light and a switch on the back that activates the light and illuminates the sphere.

The custom sculpting and casting work that we supply is unparalleled. And we craft these within your budget!

Traditional bluegrass is performed with acoustic stringed instruments, such as acoustic guitar, banjo, fiddle, and upright bass. Being that the project name was "Project Bluegrass", it only seemed fitting that we feature a banjo in miniature form.
